

Project Title: Credit Card Approval Prediction

Start Process: User opens the credit card approval prediction application.

Input Data: Customer information is entered into the system.

Processing and Prediction: The model analyzes data and predicts approval status.

Display Output: The final approved or rejected result is displayed to the user.