

Project Title: Credit Card Approval Prediction

Introduction:

The development phase focuses on creating the prediction application.

Dataset Preparation:

Customer data is cleaned and prepared for training.

Model Training:

Machine learning algorithms learn patterns from previous records.

Application Development:

A Flask interface is created for user interaction.

Integration:

The trained model is connected with the application.